LaFollette Will Be on Ballot

Attorney General Sherman Decides LaFolette Electors Must Have Place Although They Are Also on Socialist Ticket.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 11.—LaFollette candidates for presidential electors are entitled to a single column or row on the voting machine as well as upon the paper ballot in New York state.

Socialist candidates for presidential electors also are entitled to the same privilege despite the fact that the names of the candidates for electors are identical in both parties.

An opinion to this effect was rendered to day by Attorney General Carl Sherman after he received a request for information as to the arrangement of the names of LaFollette and Socialist presidential electoral candidates from Secretary of State James A. Hamilton.

The effect of the opinion, according to Sherman, will be to prevent any unjust discriminations and to extend to all voters equal facility in casting their votes.

"The fact that the candidates for presidential electors nominated by these two organizations are identical does not change the rule that in the arrangement of ballots there must be no unjust discrimination between the electors in the facility afforded them for casting their votes for the candidates of their choice," says Sherman's opinion.

"That part of section 249 of the Election Law which provides that where a person is nominated by a political party and an independent body his name shall appear only once on the voting machine ballot is ineffective at least so far as candidates for presidential electors so nominated are concerned."

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Utica, N. Y., Oct. 11, (Special).—Papers on file in the United States court clerk's office at Utica, in the case of John Eiszner Company against Wilson & Company, Inc., suit in equity, indicate the appointment of the Hon. Julius M. Mayer, former United States district court judge; the Hon. Thomas E. Wilson of Chicago, and the Hon. Harry A. Farman of Schenectady as ancillary receivers of Wilson & Company, Inc., the large Chicago packing concern.

This concern is the successor of Sulzberger & Sons Company and conducts a business in live stock, having annual sales totalling $275,000,000. Its business is conducted in several states of the Union and it has large stock yards at Chicago. The capitalization of the company is preferred stock $10,079,000 and 202,219 shares of common stock of no par value. The company has outstanding obligations aggregating $22,000,000 and outstanding bonds of over $50,000,000. The properties and assets of the company aggregate values in excess of all of its indebtedness but in order to tide over business depression, receivership was resorted to in the interest of the creditors and other obligors of Wilson & Company, Inc.

The United States court has appointed the Hon. Roscoe Irwin of Kingston and Albany, as attorney for the ancillary receivers. Mr. Irwin has had a large experience in matters of this character and in the practice of the United States courts generally and was selected as the attorney for the receivers owing to his experience and knowledge of the practice and law of the United States courts and matters pertaining to receiverships, etc.

Bandits Murder Nine Trainmen

Entire Train Crew Slain in Mexico—Train Rifled of $15,000 Payroll—American Auditor of Mining Company Killed.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 11.—Nine trainmen, employed of the Eruption Mining Company, one of them an American, were lined up along the right of way embankment and shot to death by bandits who rifled the train of a $15,000 payroll, according to word received here today.

The murder and robbery occurred 50 miles south of the border, near Candelaria station, Old Mexico. B. F. Barker, of El Paso, auditor of the mining company, was the American shot.

The entire train crew, two road masters and one laborer were slain. The only armed man on the train, a customs guard, is missing. It is believed there were five men in the bandit gang.

A posse has been armed and sent in pursuit of the murderers. Bodies of the dead men were brought to Juarez on a special train early today. It was not until then that authorities had more than meagre knowledge of the tragedy.

Two main line passenger trains met at the scene of the killing during the night and brought the story of a wreck and possible shooting to the agent at Candelaria.

The bandits were reported riding back toward Texas or New Mexico.

The train was derailed by removing a rail on a curve throwing the engine and one car of dynamite off.

The attack occurred some time Friday afternoon as the train left the mine about noon.

Barker, the American killed, has two sons living in Ajo, Arizona, and a sister and brother in New Orleans. His wife was with him at the time.

Public May See Zone Ordinance

Zoning Committee of Common Council Decides to Have Proposed Ordinance and Maps on File with City Clerk Styles at City Hall for 30 Days.

The zoning committee of the common council met Friday evening at the city hall and discussed the proposed zoning ordinance that had been drafted by Corporation Counsel James Jenkins. It was decided to place the proposed ordinance on file with City Clerk Styles at his office at the city hall, where it will remain open for inspection for a period of thirty days. The maps accompanying the ordinance will also be open for inspection. It was also decided to have a tentative zoning ordinance that had been prepared by Alderman Edinger also on file where it could be seen.

Chairman Edinger, of the committee, presided, with President Dempsey, Alderman Everett and James J. Sweeney, Mayor Morris Block and City Clerk Styles were present at the meeting.

It is hoped by the committee that the Chamber of Commerce and other organizations and all citizens interested in zoning the city will call at the city hall to look over the proposed ordinance and maps, and submit suggestions to the committee.

No action was taken on adopting the ordinance.

Some time ago Alderman Edinger submitted to the common council a tentative zoning ordinance which was referred to the zoning committee. Later Corporation Counsel Jenkins used this tentative ordinance to draft a zoning ordinance that is now under consideration. It was considered that the Edinger tentative ordinance was of such value that it should be filed for reference.

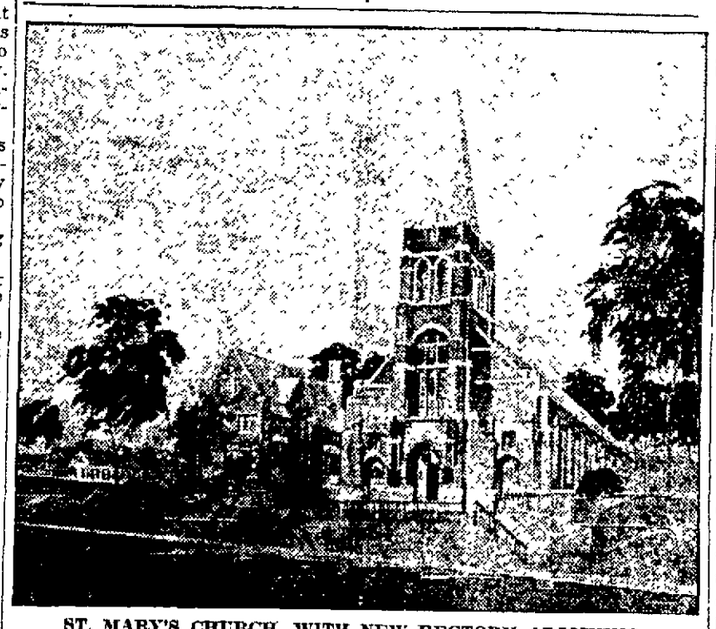
St. Mary's Church Diamond Jubilee

Next month the congregation of St. Mary's Church will celebrate its diamond jubilee, the seventy-fifth anniversary of the dedication of the the old church, which has now been remodeled and rebuilt.

The exercises will be spread over three days, beginning with solemn pontifical Mass at 11 o'clock on Sunday morning, November 2, at which time Patrick Cardinal Hayes will preside.

The second day, Monday, November 3, (All Souls' Day) will be observed by a solemn Mass offered for all the departed parishioners of St. Mary's.

On Tuesday morning, November 4, a solemn high Mass will be offered at which time the children of the parish will assist. In the evening a public meeting will be held in St. Mary's Hall, when addresses will be made.



ST. MARY'S CHURCH, WITH NEW RECTORY ADJOINING.

It is expected that not only will the present parishioners participate, but also many of the former parishioners who have removed to other localities.

The following history of the parish has been prepared by a member of the congregation:

The first meeting by the Catholics of the village of Rondout for the purpose of organizing a parish was held on September 22, 1835. The first official visit of a priest was that of the Rev. Philip O'Reilly who had charge of all the missions and churches along the Hudson river. He came to encourage the people of Rondout in their laudable desire of erecting a church of their own. He also visited Rondout every time a fifth Sunday occurred in a month, when he celebrated Mass in the homes of different residents. The first lot purchased as a site for a church was along the Wilbur road, but the Rev. John Smith, of Poughkeepsie, who had been placed in charge of the mission at Rondout, purchased the lot on which the present church stands. On this site in the fall of 1839 a small frame church was erected at a cost of $500. In June of 1842 Rondout was made a separate mission and the Rev. Myles Maxwell was appointed as its first pastor. He at once enlarged the small frame church to accommodate his rapidly increasing congregation and in a short time laid plans for the erection of the large church building which still stands and which has now been thoroughly renovated and remodeled. The cornerstone of this larger church building was laid on May 21, 1848, and the edifice was solemnly dedicated on July 8, 1849. The arduous labors of building up this parish and supervising the construction of the church in addition to caring for the Catholics in Stony Hollow, Jockey Hill, Port Ewen, Wilbur, Eddyville, Whiteport, Flatbush and Saugerties told on the health of Father Maxwell with the result that he died in August of 1849.

The Rev. Thomas Quinn was sent to assist Pastor Maxwell during his illness and after Father Maxwell's death, had charge of St. Mary's for about a month when he was succeeded by the Rev. William Quinn, who also remained in charge only about a month, being followed by the Rev. Thomas Martin, whose pastorate continued from November, 1849, to January, 1852. He purchased an organ for the church which remained in use until 1900.

The Rev. John Madden was appointed pastor in the early part of 1852 and remained in charge until the end of 1857. This pastor purchased the site for and erected the rectory opposite the church, which building has been demolished to make way for the handsome new convent to be erected for the use of the Sisters of Charity, who are engaged in teaching at St. Mary's School.

The Rev. Francis McNierney was pastor from January to May, 1858, when he was succeeded by the Rev. D. G. Durning who was in charge until November of 1859.

The Rev. Felix Farrelly was appointed pastor in 1859 and he engaged the services of the Sisters of Charity, who established St. Mary's Academy, which was conducted until 1911 on Wurts street and where the sisters still reside. This building will be abandoned on the completion of the new convent. Father Farrelly also purchased the cemetery grounds on Flatbush avenue now known as St. Mary's Cemetery.

The Rev. Edward S. Briody followed as pastor from May, 1865, to June, 1867, making many improvements among which was the installation of a new heating system in the church.

The Rev. James Coyle, whose pastorate began in 1867 is remembered by some of the older parishioners. His was a most progressive and zealous pastorate. He not only cared for the material and spiritual wants of his own immediate flock but also concerned himself with the needs of the people in the village of Kingston and it was through his efforts that the parish of St. Joseph's was organized. His assistant, the Rev. James J. Dougherty, a Rondout boy, was appointed as the first pastor of that church. Father Coyle also improved and enlarged the church organ. In 1867 he purchased the lot on the corner of McEntee street and erected the parochial school, which was used until it was torn down in 1912 to make way for the present modern school building. The school, which had been conducted for many years in smaller buildings thus was properly housed and better educational advantages offered. The attendance at the school at that time was about the largest of any in the city, about 500 children attending. Pastor Coyle died in June, 1872.

Delay Zeppelin's Atlantic Flight

Last Product of Zeppelin Factory Postpones Trans-Atlantic Flight Until Sunday—Factory Must Be Destroyed.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Friedrichshafen, Germany, Oct. 11.—The start of the trans-Atlantic voyage of the ZR-3, was postponed until tomorrow. The postponement was announced a half hour before the big dirigible was due to cast off for America today.

Through the night plans had been made for an early morning departure of the last ship to be turned out at the Zeppelin factory.

Under the terms of the Versailles treaty, the Zeppelin factory must be destroyed.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, director of the Zeppelin company and commander of the ZR-3 in its trans-Atlantic trip, had kept constantly in touch with the weather situation along the vessel's proposed route, receiving reports by radio from points along the southern route.

It had been palnned to take the dirigible across Basel, Switzerland, to Bordeaux, France, and thence to the Azores.

Giant Airship Delayed by Wind

Shenandoah Reaches San Diego Five Hours Late, After Meeting Contrary Winds, Rain and Snow in Crossing Rocky Mountains.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

North Island, San Diego, Cal., Oct. 11.—Delay in the departure of the navy dirigible Shenandoah for Camp Lewis, Washington, scheduled for today was announced shortly after 9 o'clock today.

The delay was occasioned, it was said, to permit a thorough check as to whether any damage had been incurred when the big airship landed here last night.

It was admitted the craft had been "slightly strained", but emphatically denied it had been badly damaged.

The time of the airship's expected departure was not announced but if a conference of officers decides the damage to be slight it is expected to leave tomorrow morning.

The Shenandoah, shining in the light of a bright moon, hove into sight here slightly to the norwest at 10:50 last night. She was riding easily at a six thousand foot altitude and making good speed. She then circled widely to the south and finally eased to the earth on the landing field 200 yards from her mooring mast at 11:40 p. m.

Late yesterday when the Shenandoah was ready to negotiate the high Cuyuma Mountains east of here, heavy clouds were encountered. It was decided to go north. In trying to pass through the San Gregoria Gorge shortly after sunset, the Shenandoah encountered contrary head winds, rain and snow. The velocity of the head winds were so strong it was said, that her speed was reduced to 10 miles an hour. This caused a five hour delay in her arrival. After once negotiating the treacherous San Bernandino mountains, however, the Shenandoah headed south with strong tail winds and rode with ease to North Island.

Remand Ginardi Back to Jail

Angelo Ginardi Charged With First Degree Assault In Marlborough Shooting, is Held For Grand Jury, Bail Being Refused—Will Seek to Have Supreme Court Grant Ginardi Bail.

Angelo Ginardi, charged with assault in the first degree, in connection with the shooting of Sam Macino at Marlborough on September 24, waived examination and was held to await the action of the grand jury by Justice of the Peace Hutchins at Marlborough Friday afeernoon. Ginardi through his attorneys, Chris. J. Flanagan and Frank W. Brooks, asked that bail be fixed but this was refused by the justice and he was brought to jail.

Macino, whose injuries are considered serious, is said to be improving at St. Luke's Hospital in Newburgh, where he was taken after the shooting. Peter Galo held as a material witness, is out on bail and the fourth man who was in the car with Macino at the time of the shooting, is still at large. Ginardi denies that he did the shooting. Galo also claims he knows nothing of the shooting and Macino refuses to give any information other than that he was in the car with the three other men and that when the car was stopped he and Ginardi and the missing man got out of the car and he was shot. Macino and Galo were friends but Galo denies knowing the other two men in the car. Macino claims they were all friends.

An attempt will be made to have the supreme court admit Ginardi to bail.

Strand Barber Shop Broken Into Friday Night But Only Things Taken Were Tools Of Belchensky Who Takes Over Balzam's Shop On Broadway On Monday.

Samuel Belchensky, employed as a barber in the shop of Clarence Ryan on the Strand, was at police headquarters this morning to report the theft of all his tools some time Friday night when the shop was broken into. Apparently nothing else was stolen.

Mr. Belchensky stated that he had taken over the Balzam barber shop at No. 90 Broadway, and expected to take possession on Monday. Mr. Balzam has planned to return to New York city, where he will make his home.

Belchensky believes that some one who had a grievance against him had stolen his tools to handicap him in taking over the Balzam shop on Monday, as nothing else was taken in the Ryan shop.

Bruno Dieze Found Under Assumed Name

Man Who Developed Bungalow Colony on Ashokan Boulevard Arrested on Complaint of Stuyvesant Garage—Now Developing Tract at Red Hook—Must Stop His Other Name.

Several anonymous letters received by the postmaster at Red Hook stating that Walter Loose, who was in charge of developing a bungalow colony at that place was none other than Bruno Dieze, who will be remembered by Ulster county residents as the man who started a bungalow development near West Hurley on the Ashokan Boulevard, caused two deputy sheriffs from Dutchess county to pay a visit to the Chamber of Commerce on Broadway Friday afternoon seeking information regarding Dieze.

"If you want to know anything about Dieze," they were informed "it might be well to see Bert Chambers of the Stuyvesant Garage." They did so.

Mr. Chambers remembered Mr. Dieze as the result of an automobile deal in which Dieze bought a Maxwell touring car from the Stuyvesant Garage and gave a chattel mortgage for the amount. The chattel mortgage had never been satisfied, and Mr. Chambers called on Judge Robert G. Groves and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Dieze, or Loose as he is known in Red Hook.

The warrant was turned over to Sergeant Phinney of the local police department and he, together with the two deputy sheriffs and Mr. Chambers, motored to Red Hook to ascertain if Loose and Dieze were one and the same man.

On finding that Dieze and Loose were one, Sergeant Phinney brought Dieze back to Kingston.

It developed that Dieze has about a thousand acres of land at Red Hook on which are four bungalows.

As it was desired to settle the matter at once, Dieze was arraigned before Judge Groves, at which time Mr. Chambers desired to withdraw the charge.

Judge Groves said that he would not allow the withdrawal of the charge at this time but would adjourn the hearing until October 20, at which time he would entertain a motion to that effect provided that Dieze went back to Red Hook and assumed his right name.

Dieze was paroled to appear here in court on the adjourned date.

It is understood that he has settled with the Stuyvesant Garage for the Maxwell car.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

MARY GRAHAM BONNER

JOLLY JACK FROST

"Of course," said Jack Frost, "lots of people do not like me.

"I Kiss Them."

"They do not like to see the flowers disappear and the winter come.

"But I know that winter wants to be given a chance too, and that the cold days that like to come about when the autumn and late fall is here want to have a chance.

"So I help them in my jolly way."

"It is true you're a jolly little fellow with your brisk ways," said the Fairy Queen. "But it is sad to see you make the flowers droop."

"I kiss them," said Jack Frost. "I say to them:

"'Dear flowers, how pretty you are. But you must go to bed. It is past bed time.'"

"Ah, but what a cold kiss you give them," said the Fairy Queen.

"True, but such is my way," Jack Frost answered.

Then he went and called Master Chilly and all of the others of his family, all of the Frost Brothers and the Artists and the Workers.

They rushed forth when he called them and they said:

"Yes, we will help you, Jack. You know we will help you."

The artists went to the windows and painted their wonderful pictures with their frost paints.

Others went to the flowers and gave them their cold, chilly kisses so that the flowers quickly drooped their pretty heads and said:

"Good-night, or, good winter, for we must be really going to sleep now.

"Jack Frost will not let us stay up any longer."

There were a few who were able to stand the cold kisses, but another time they, too, would go to bed.

They had succeeded in staying up just a little longer.

Ah, such a night as Jack Frost and his workers had!

As they worked they sang, too.

And this was the song they sang which every one of them joined in singing:

We're chilly and frosty but full of fun,
Our fun we've only just begun.
We'll come again and again and work,
Our frosty duties we will not shirk.
We'll laugh and we'll sing,
Cold weather we'll bring.
We'll work with a will
In this nice air so still.
We're chilly and frosty but full of fun,
Our fun we've only just begun.

We're chilly and frosty but full of zest
As every flower in the garden we feel,
And as we feel them they feel us too,
And what we tell them they will do.
We tell them to go to bed right away
And that they must not any later stay.
We go to the windows and make pictures fine
And people know it's the Jack Frost sign.
We're chilly and frosty but full of zest
As every flower in the garden we feel.

We're chilly and frosty but full of zest,
To nip the flowers we do our best.
We do not think it is unkind,
They don't really, really mind,
For sooner or later to bed they must go
And we hurry them up so they won't be slow.
We wish them good-night and we wish them well,
And these wishes with our cold whispers we tell.
We're chilly and frosty but full of zest
To nip the flowers we do our best.

And then they all sang the first verse over again:

We're chilly and frosty but full of fun,
Our fun we've only just begun.
We'll come again and again and work,
Our frosty duties we will not shirk.
We'll laugh and we'll sing,
Cold weather we'll bring.
We'll work with a will
In this nice air so still.
We're chilly and frosty but full of fun,
Our work we've only just begun!

GOOD THINGS FOR THE TABLE

These are the busy days for the thrifty housewife who has fruit and vegetables in her garden to can. For variety—and we all enjoy something different, try—

Quince and Cranberry Jam.—Wash five quinces, cut them into pieces without peeling, add one quart of cranberries and cook until the quinces are soft. Rub through a sieve, measure, add three-fourths as much sugar and cook until thick, stirring often. Pour into sterilized glasses.

Quince Honey.—Pare and grate five large quinces. Put five pounds of sugar and one pint of water into a saucepan, stir until the sugar is dissolved, add the quinces and cook fifteen to twenty minutes, taking care not to scorch. It should be about the color and consistency of honey. Pour into sterilized glasses and seal when cold.

Pepper Relish.—Take six red peppers, six green ones, and six onions; remove the seeds from the peppers and put onion and peppers through a meat chopper. Cover the chopped mixture with boiling water and let stand five minutes. Drain and add one cupful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of salt, one and one-half cupfuls of vinegar, and boil twenty minutes. If not moist enough add one-half cupful of water. Seal in jars.

Turnip Croquettes.—Cook young, tender turnips until done, drain and mash. To each pint add a mealy, white mashed potato, the beaten yolk of an egg, one-half teaspoonful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of butter, salt and pepper to taste. Form into croquettes, dip into fine crumbs, then into egg beaten with two tablespoonfuls of water, then into crumbs and fry in deep fat.

Orange Jelly.—Prepare a pint of orange jelly and set in a pan of ice water. When it begins to thicken begin to beat with an egg beater until light and foamy. Put into sherbet glasses and garnish with a mint cherry. Serve cold.

LIVER HEALTH A THING OF GREAT IMPORTANCE

Health Talk

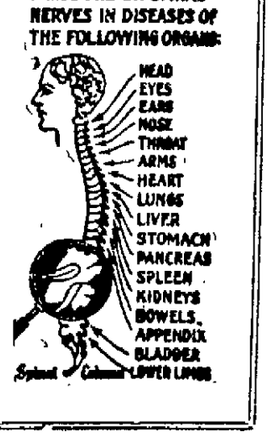
By Froude & MacKinnon, D's.C.

Liver health means a beautiful complexion, a body free from the impurities that dull the sensibilities and cloud the eyes and brain. Liver health means the every day vigor and freshness which enables you to work without fatigue, to look upon any task as easy.

When the liver action is weakened, or subnormal, due to weakened transmission of life impulses over spinal nerve lines, there is constipation, that heavy feeling, dull headaches, nausea, and in extreme cases, jaundice and fever. A nerve that is under pressure acts in precisely the same way as a wire that is thinned down or partially cut. Such a wire will transmit electric current, but there will be resistance and heat at the defective point. In the human body, when there is disease due to nerve impingement, it takes chiropractic vertebral adjustments to restore spinal alignment and remove the nerve pressure.

J. L. MacKINNON, D. C.

HEALTH FOLLOWS CHIROPRACTIC CORRECTS PRESSURE ON SPINAL NERVES IN DISEASES OF THE FOLLOWING ORGANS:



LIVER TROUBLE OF YEARS STANDING, IS CORRECTED

"That others may benefit, I wish to add my testimony to the many who have been restored by chiropractic. I despaired of ever getting relief, having tried so many methods without benefit. Liver trouble and jaundice of several years' standing, it seems to me almost miraculous, were conquered by chiropractic vertebral adjustments. I am completely restored to health and am enjoying life as only a well person can. If by this statement I can be instrumental in bringing other sick people to health I will feel that I have done a lot for humanity."—Mrs. Theo. Barnes before George Silvertooth, notary public, Chiropractic Research Bureau Statement No. 1351S.

St. Mary's Church Diamond Jubilee

pastor, remained from July, 1872, to May, 1873, when he was transferred to St. Peter's Church, New York city. Father O'Farrell was a distinguished scholar and the famous Dominican Father Tom Burke, prepared many of his addresses with the aid of Father O'Farrell and his extensive library.

The Rev. M. C. O'Farrell succeeded as pastor from June, 1873, to July, 1876, and he introduced the Christian Brothers and later the Franciscan Brothers to take charge of the education of boys of the parish in the Brothers' School, which stood on the site of the present rectory, and which was discontinued in 1895. Brothers Ambrose and Joseph were among the best known teachers of that school. Pastor O'Farrell also built St. Colman's Church in East Kingston, which was made a mission church in charge of St. Mary's pastor. He also promoted the formation of the parish in Port Ewen.

The Rev. John J. Duffy, D. D., a most eloquent and forceful preacher came to St. Mary's as pastor in August, 1876, and remained in charge until his death in April, 1888. During his long pastorate the congregation made many strides both in numbers and in other ways.

After the death of Dr. Duffy the Rev. Peter J. Prendergast became pastor, having charge from June, 1888, to July, 1890. During this time the rectory was overhauled and renovated.

In November of 1890 the Rev. Dr. Richard L. Burtsell was transferred from New York city to Kingston and remained as pastor until his death in February, 1912. Dr. Burtsell with characteristic energy immediately embarked upon a campaign of improvement. In 1891 the church exterior was painted and the interior decorations brightened and improved. In the same year St. Colman's Church at East Kingston was enlarged and Bishop Conroy blessed it anew. In 1895 the church was thoroughly renovated and new flooring placed and new pews installed, besides the beautiful new stained glass windows which are still an ornament to the church. In 1896 the handsome marble altars were installed and everything in connection with the sanctuary renewed. All these improvements and paying off of all debts placed the church in condition for consecration which ceremony was performed on the first Sunday of September, 1896, by the Most Rev. M. A. Corrigan, D. D., archbishop of New York. Later on the artistic paintings of the Way of the Cross were introduced. In recognition of all this work, in 1898 the Most Rev. Archbishop Corrigan made St. Mary's a permanent rectorship with Dr. Burtsell as the first irremovable rector. In 1900 a much larger and finer organ was installed and in 1901 the beautiful paintings above the three altars were provided.

Besides his work as pastor of St. Mary's Dr. Burtsell is fondly remembered for his great activity in all civic matters especially in the alleviation of all human distress, he being one of the promoters and founders of the Kingston City Hospital, and also acting as its president for a number of years. He also helped in establishing the Kingston City Library and when the Benedictine Hospital was opened in Kingston he became its president and retained that office until his death.

The Rev. John J. Hickey, who had acted as assistant to Dr. Burtsell for many years, but who had been transferred to the pastorates of Whiteport and Rosendale, was in March of 1912 appointed as pastor of St. Mary's. Pastor Hickey took up the burden surrendered by his predecessor and continued the material progress of the parish. He immediately demolished the old school building and began the erection of the present large structure. The cornerstone was laid on Sunday, September 28, 1913, by Monsignor M. J. Lavelle, rector of St. Patrick's Cathedral, and Vicar General of the New York diocese. The building was blessed and dedicated on Sunday, May 30, 1914, by the Rt. Rev. Joseph F. Mooney, V. G. This was the sixth school building to be used for the education of the children of St. Mary's. Father Hickey also renovated and overhauled the chapel connected with the church, installing new stained glass windows. He also purchased a large addition to the cemetery property along Foxhall avenue, had the exterior of the church repainted and just before the close of his pastorate had the interior newly painted and decorated. He also laid plans for the erection of a new rectory but was removed to another field of labor before their fulfillment.

Father Hickey also was very prominent in the civic life of the city taking the place of Dr. Burtsell on the many public boards and interesting himself in all that was for the general welfare of the citizens of Kingston.

In the latter part of September, 1922, Father Hickey was appointed as pastor of St. Joseph's Church in New York city, in which church he had been baptized and had spent his early years. His departure after such a long pastorate was the occasion of an outpouring of affection and words and evidences of admiration and esteem, not only from his parishioners but also from the citizens of the entire city.

On October 29, 1922, the Rev. Joseph B. Scully who for seven years had been pastor of the church at Phoenicia, assumed charge of St. Mary's. Father Scully, while of a modest disposition, is an untiring worker and he very quickly inaugurated a most extensive program of improvements and alterations in and around the church property. The problem of the new rectory, which had been hanging fire for some time, was finally solved and work was begun in the fall of 1923, the building being ready for occupancy in the middle of August of this year. Realizing that the furnishings of the sanctuary did not correspond with the new interior decorations of the church a new tile flooring was laid and a new altar rail erected and new marble altar platforms built. The statuary was also replaced by new white Italian marble statues. The flooring was then taken up in the body of the church and it being found that the years had made inroads in the beams and supports, these were replaced and a new hardwood floor laid. The pews were all refinished in black walnut and the aisles recovered with rubber matting. An entire new lighting system has been installed and the heating system overhauled and improved. In order that the church exterior might harmonize with the adjoining rectory which is of Gothic architecture and very artistic, the church is being veneered with brick and limestone. The front will be entirely remodeled, new doors being installed and new stained glass windows placed above them. The steeple will be strengthened and refinished. Two new exits are provided toward the front of the church opening on either side. The porch and wall in front of the church has been cut down and changed in appearance so that a better view of the church may be had by passersby. The old sacristy has been torn down and a new and much larger one erected. The chapel in the rear of the church has been overhauled and renovated.

Besides the improvements to the church the former rectory has been demolished and a new convent will be erected on the site for the use of the Sisters of Charity, who are engaged in the teaching of the children of St. Mary's. This school is one of the largest grade schools in the city the attendance being in the neighborhood of 450.

When these improvements are all completed the church plant will be one of the finest and most complete along the Hudson river and as Father Myles Maxwell was known as the builder of St. Mary's, so the present pastor, the Rev. Joseph B. Scully, will be known as the rebuilder.

Pastor Scully has also shown deep interest in the welfare of the youth of the parish, encouraging in every way their social activities and athletic sports, and has purchased and equipped a summer camp at Mt. Tremper, which has been used extensively during the past season.

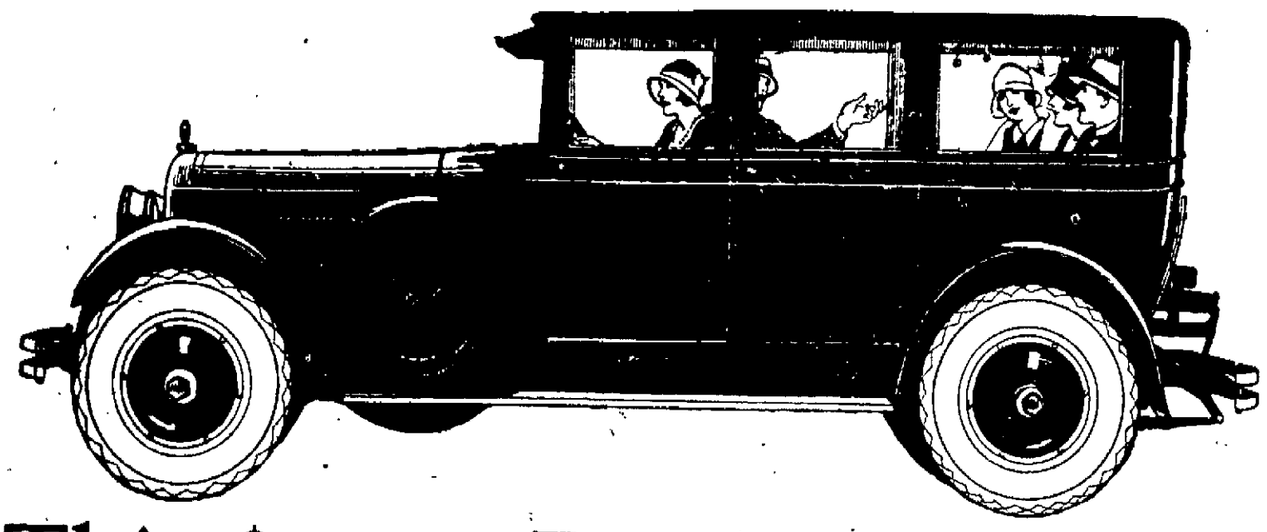
He also has shown great interest in St. Mary's Cemetery, establishing a new system of caring for and recording of plots and also has built a fine house at the cemetery for the use of the superintendent.

These steps in the material progress of this old parish, which have marked its more than seventy-five years of existence are but outward manifestations of the firm faith of the worshippers at this church and proofs of their loyalty to priests and parish. As the parishioners of past generations reared temples to God and to education, they also instilled sound religious principles in the hearts and minds of their children, so that there has been no weakening of faith or loss of interest in the succeeding generations up to the present. There are now necessary six Masses to be said each Sunday morning to accommodate the many worshippers.

That the piety, earnestness and ability of the pastors of St. Mary's has been recognized by their superiors is shown by the fact that six pastors out of the seventeen who have presided over this parish have been honored by their church. The Rev. William Quinn was made Vicar General of New York diocese; the Rev. Francis McNierney was raised to be bishop of Albany; the Rev. M. J. O'Farrell to be bishop of Trenton, N. J.; the Rev. Dr. R. L. Burtsell to be monsignor and also dean of Ulster and Sullivan counties, the Rev. John J. Hickey to be dean of Ulster and Sullivan counties, and the Rev. Joseph B. Scully has been appointed supervisor of parochial schools for the counties of Ulster, Sullivan, Rockland and Orange.

Of the priests who have labored as assistants at this church, many have removed to larger spheres, and have made their marks in their chosen fields. Among them might be mentioned the Very Rev. M. J. Fitzpatrick, rector of the Mission of the Immaculate Conception, New York city; the Rev. James F. Hanley, pastor of the church at Marlborough, and many others.

From this old parish have also gone forth many priests, religious and laymen who have brought honor to themselves and their church and also to the city in which this church and its parishioners have played so prominent a part for nearly a century.



This $2770 Paige Gives You $4000-Car Advantages!

What are $4000-car advantages? Size and comfort for one thing. You expect a big car for that money. Size—wheelbase—adds to riding comfort as well as appearance. You look for long springs and roomy, deep cushioned seats.

Big power is another thing you get in a $4000 car. Ability to meet any performance situation without straining. You expect it to last long. To stand up for years. And you count on relief from mechanical upkeep.

You are right to expect these advantages. But now you need not pay $4000 for them! Read below how Paige—for $2770—offers these selfsame advantages. Here are facts:

Size and Comfort

Paige makes fun of detours—casts driving limits aside! Why? It's long—131-inch wheelbase. Paige's rear springs are more than 5 feet long. Snubbers all 'round.

You cannot buy finer spring suspension! And for an inch or two more of wheelbase that a few others have you must pay $178 to $1090 more an inch! Several cars costing hundreds more than Paige are smaller!

Power and Performance

Paige's big 70 h. p. six-cylinder motor is more than ample for any job. Its size means unstrained power—hence long life. It means ability to climb hills in high that stall most others. Outstrip them on the straightaway. Throttle down to 2 miles an hour in high—then "get away" first. Finer performance is not to be had!

To equal Paige's 331.4 cu. in. piston displacement in so fine a car costs close to $1000 more!

Long Life and Economy

You expect a $4000 car to stand up season after season. You may confidently expect the $2770 Paige to do the same! Paige's weight—4300 lbs.—indicates its staunchness. Running expense is remarkably low—far lower than most other big cars of the same advantages. Mechanical expense is long-postponed—thanks to fineness of materials and construction. The Paige is built for 100,000 miles of care-free service.

What other advantages can a $4000 car offer you? Check up on what higher priced cars give. Then check up Paige. For only $2770 you may now enjoy all the big power and fine performance, the size and comfort, the long life, of far higher-priced cars.

Drive the Paige. Put it to your own tests. See how it measures up—excels most—in every point. Telephone or come in today for a demonstration. (6G3-4)

KINGSTON, N. Y., OCT. 11, 1924.

There are about 23,500,000 families in the United States, and 13,457,000 passenger automobiles. Of 22,960,000 telephones in the world, 14,347,000 are in the United States. Apparently this country is considerably more prosperous than the rest of the world. Why change the economic policies that have made all that possible.

The Republican answer to all Democratic charges of shortcomings is, "Look at the record." The budget, the protective tariff, the Washington armaments conference, the Dawes plan, and the most drastic economy in administration at Washington are only the high lights in a record of achievement unparalleled in the history of the country That record cannot be shaken by wordy attacks from Democrats, nor can the people be deprived of full information in regard to it.

Senator Weller of Maryland declares the nomination of Bryan has given the state to the Republicans. That will be found true in a number of the so-called border states. The radicalism of Governor Bryan, coupled with the influence that his thrice-repudiated brother exerts upon him, is sufficient to alienate the support of conservative Democrats from their party ticket. It is coming to be generally recognized that the position of Bryan on the ticket is a distinct asset for the Republicans.

Our tax problem alone is sufficient reason for every citizen of voting age to exercise his judgment of public officials by casting a ballot on election day. Lowering of the cost of government, thus making possible successive tax cuts, is the surest means of relief for the voter and his family. Officials who can show a record of drastic economy should be continued in office. Those who cannot show reductions in expenditure should be displaced by others who will agree to a cutting of costs. But economy is assured only through the votes of the taxpayers.

Mr. Coolidge conceives it to be the business of a President not only to attend to the routine affairs of the Executive Office, but also to lend the Presidential influence to any worthy object that will contribute to the public welfare. This he did when he took time to attend the ceremonies incident to the welcome home of the victorious Washington baseball team. He took occasion to deliver an address to the Washington players on the lesson to be drawn from their endeavors and on the value of the game as a diversion from our more serious duties.

POTASH PRICE-FIXING.

Repeatedly the statements of Democratic campaign managers and the Democratic candidates are refuted in the news columns of the Democratic press. Recently the statement was made, not only by Democratic candidates but by the Third Party candidates as well, that the American farmer buys everything in a protected market. Now comes the news in the columns of the New York Times that the Franco-German potash producers have perfected an agreement under which they are to divide between them on a fixed percentage the business of delivering to America the potash supply needed for fertilizers on American farms. Under this agreement the Alsatian mines, now in French territory, will supply 37.5 per cent and the German mines 62.5 per cent of the total potash deliveries to this country. The French Publicity Bureau in the United States has issued a bulletin in which it says that 200,000 tons of pure potash are usually absorbed yearly by the American market. The bulletin says:

"These prices will be fixed on the basis of $27 a ton for potassium chloride at 80 per cent."

If the farmers who are interested in the subject will turn to paragraph 1645 of the Tariff Act of 1922, they will find listed as admitted "free," "potassium chloride or muriate of potash, potassium sulphate, Kainit, wood ashes and beet root ashes, and all crude potash salts not specifically provided for."

Here is one more instance where it can not possibly be charged that either the American tariff or an American "monopoly" is fixing the prices the American farmer must pay.

That Body of Yours

TUNING IN WITH THE WORLD.

One of the expressions you have heard all your life and still hear is "No man is always wise."

That has been of help to us all at times, because it is some excuse for some of the unwise things we have said or done.

I believe that everybody makes mistakes in business, in play, in their family, and also in their civil life.

In these days, feverish we call them, we find that there are more mental cases than formerly. That more people seem to be a bit "queer" or perhaps "odd" as we call it.

While we find some men and women who seem to be giants mentally, with wonderful poise, still we find more people than even, who have not this poise.

What's the matter?

Well, the world is somewhat different than it was some years ago.

In former days a man could more or less choose his work, his life work. Now, there is not the need for a great number of expert mechanics. one or two can lay out the work for a shop, and the rest simply run the machines that do the actual work.

This applies in many lines of endeavor, and so our people become mechanical in their everyday life.

They have stopped doing the individual thinking that was a part of a man's life in other days.

What does this mean?

That when emergencies, troubles, disappointments, opportunities present themselves they are unable to meet them with calmness of thought, or poise, as it is called. Not being trained to think, to plan, and work out these plans, they are unprepared, when emergencies arise.

And so we find more people who are hopeless, unable to do a full day's work, mentally and physically.

Men and women who seem afraid of the world and its responsibilities.

Are these people sick-

No, not in the ordinary sense, because there is no physical ailment, but they are really sick in another sense.

When you have a toothache it is because a nerve is exposed to the air or to pressure. There is a struggle going on between them.

Similarly with other ailments like typhoid fever or pneumonia.

A struggle goes on, because you have done something, or something has occured, that is in opposition to Nature's laws. Nature will fight for her laws every time, and you suffer.

In these other cases of odd or queer people, they are fighting or opposing the world and the world's methods, instead of being in tune or harmony with them.

If they can learn to tune in, or accept the world's ways, they'll get better.

Bees Work Selves to Death

Honeybees turn on the heat in their apartment houses at 57 degrees Fahrenheit, says the Journal of Pharmacy. When it gets that cold, they form a compact spherical cluster.

Bees on the inside of the ball become active and walk, wiggle and ben their wings to generate heat. The outer shell of the cluster is made up of bees that cuddle close and stay still They furnish the insulation which prevents the escape of heat so effectively that there may be 75 degrees difference between the inside and the outside only four and one-half inches away.

Thousands of dollars are lost to American beekeepers every year, however, by bees working themselves to death in keeping warm this way.

"Chameleon Lakes"

It is well known that the water of many lakes exhibits characteristic colors. Lake Geneva, at the western end of Switzerland, is blue, while Lake Constance, at the eastern end of that country, is green. Blueness implies purity, since the natural color of water is blue. A green lake has its water slightly clouded with impurities.

It is said that green lakes sometimes become absolutely colorless for a time, and it has been found that this sudden change of hue is due to the washing into the lakes of mud colored red by oxide of iron. Red is complementary to green, and the result of the mixture is that the green color of the water becomes for the time being neutralized.

Hindu Delicacy

A delicacy much prized by the Hindu consists of bamboo seeds, roasted and afterward mixed with honey.

Examination for Paid Fireman

The local civil service board will hold an examination for paid fireman in the Kingston Fire Department at the city hall next Wednesday at 7:30 o'clock. The board has so far received about half a dozen applications to take the examination. All applications must be filed with H. L. Van Deusen, secretary of the board, before October 14. The members of the civil service board are Harry S. Watts, president; and Commissioners James S. McAndrew and Peter J. Crough.

The age limit for paid fireman is 21 to 35 years. One application was rejected because the applicant was over the age limit. There will be but a written and physical examination.

The examination for deputy fire chief will be held Thursday evening at the city hall. This examination is limited to members of the paid fire department.

TODAY WE CELEBRATE

MARY PICKFORD.

Mary Pickford, the "movie" star, was born in Canada, thirty years ago last April. Her maiden name was Gladys Smith. She started her stage career in a stock company, and later was given parts in regular production where a little actress was required. She has said that there were periods in those days when she walked miles to save five cents. Though no great success on the stage, she was almost immediately "a hit" in the screen dramas. She has written several scenarios herself, some of which she has appeared in.

UNIVERSALISTS PREACH.

The first of the modern churchmen to teach anything resembling Universalist doctrine was Ulrich Zwingli, the celebrated Swiss religious reformer, and founder of the reformed Helvetic Church, who was killed at Cappel 1,393 years ago today, while encouraging the protestant troops during the war between the Catholics and Protestants in the Swiss Cantons. Zwingli was an ecclesiastic of the Roman Church, whose liberal tendencies had often brought him into conflict with the hierarchy. He taught that "all good men who have fulfilled the law engraven on their consciences, whatever age or country they may have lived in, or whatever faith they held, will partake of eternal felicity." The doctrines of Universal Salvation declared in the Talmud, and advocated by Origen and early Christion fathers, was opposed by St. Augustine, the third doctor of the church, and finally condemned as a heresy in the sixth century. Zwinli, though not as famous, was a much more lovable character than either Luther or Calvin, and even his enemies admitted that his life was beyond reproach.

PHILIP ASTLEY.

Philip Astley, noted English equestrian performer, whose birth on this day in 1742, we today celebrate, was born at Newcastle-under-Lyne on October 11. He was the founder or "Astley's," Astley's Amphitheater. There are two quaint and valuable books still to be found in our national libraries, "By Philip Astley, Riding Master. Late of His Majesty's Royal Light Dragoons." The books are in full calf and illustrated with quaint wood engravings. One is entitled "The Wonder Riding Master, or a Key to the Knowledge of the Horse." The other is called "Astley's System of Equestrian Education." Both are really mines of information regarding horses—and how to ride them. The author was a cavalryman in the Seven Years War, stood well over six feet in height, had the figure of a Hercules and the voice of a trumpet. After his honorable discharge from the military service he began to give exhibitions in Lambeth, in a field near Halfpenny Hatch.

Inventive, resourceful, daring, he formed the first "ring" with ropes and some stakes, himself going round with the hat after each performance. By 1770, he had saved up enough funds to build up "Astley's Royal Amphitheater," thus becoming the founder of the modern circus and the predecessor of the Barnum & Bailey's and the Ringling Brothers of the world. In 1805, the Royal Circus having been destroyed by fire, he leased the site of the Olympic Theater from Lord Craven, adding spectacles such as "Bluebeard," also the pageants and parades that are so such a feature of the modern circus. He died in Paris in 1814, at the age of 72. He was succeeded in the circus business by the celebrated Ducrow, the originator of the "Poses Plastique," which were still to be seen at the Ringling circus as late as six years ago.

Glenn Curtiss Says "It's Surprising!"

After a demonstration in the new Willys-Knight Sedan equipped with the Lanchester Balancer, the famous aeroplane builder said—"It is surprising. I drove the car at all speeds up to 50 miles an hour and found absolutely no engine vibration."

Vibrationless Motoring

Automobile engineers have been striving for many years to lay the ghost of vibration—but it has remained for the Willys-Knight to bring to the United States the secret of vibrationless engine-running—

The Lanchester Balancer—a great discovery by a great genius—the invention of Dr. F. W. Lanchester, F.R.S., of Great Britain, builder of one of the world's most expensive motor cars.

With this new ingenuity of engineering, Willys-Knight achieves positive engine smoothness at all speeds. A smoothness almost incredible to the thousands and thousands of automobile owners who have always thought vibration in a car to be a necessary evil.

This achievement is all the more notable for being sponsored by a car with so many other great achievements to its credit. Willys-Knight long since ended the days of valve-grinding and carbon-cleaning—and the Willys-Knight sleeve-valve engine is known around the world as the engine that improves with use.

Leading engineering authorities, car owners, the public generally, are impressed by Willys-Knight's vibrationless performance. A ride is a new thrill—a new experience—a new conception of motoring pleasure. Take a ride today!

STATE CONVENTION WILL DRAW THOUSANDS

Automobile and Trolley Parties to Come in Throngs.

Albany Will Be Mecca for New York State Sunday School Workers on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, October 15, 16, 17.

A million and a quarter Sunday School workers and students in New York State are centering their attention upon the coming sixty-ninth annual State Sunday School Convention, scheduled for Albany October 15-17. From the 6,000 schools in the State and from 60 county and several hundred district associations will come 1,000 delegates and visitors. The program will be served by a dozen speakers of renown and numerous specialists. The Convention will simultaneously occupy six of Albany's largest churches and the Armory, all of which will be required to accommodate its numerous sessions and specialization periods.

Under the merger recently effected

DR. SHERWOOD EDDY
Traveler and Student of Missions

between the denominations and the International Sunday School Association thirty-seven (37) denominations in New York State are now officially participating in and responsible for the program of the New York State Sunday School Association. This official denominational support brings to the program several denominational specialists and gives to the State work a co-operation and a unity which it has hitherto lacked.

The Convention is really a three-day university of high educational value. One-third of the Convention program is devoted to problems of the small Sunday school. More than fifty subjects applicable to all schools will de discussed. The educational features of the program will include a study of week day and daily vacation Bible schools, vacation church schools, summer schools, motion pictures in religious education, the home and parents in religious education, educational evangelism, community training schools, five day schools of religious education, and all that pertains to the better education and equipment of both teacher and pupil.

Widely Known Specialist in Religious Education

The music of the Convention will be in charge of Prof. Ralph L. Grosvenor, of New York City.

Accommodation in hotels can be secured for $2 per day, and in rooming houses for $1 to $1.50. Meals supplied in numerous restaurants need not cost more than 50 cents each. Programs and delegate's credentials may be secured upon application to the New York State Sunday School Association, 80 Howard street, Albany, N. Y.

WILL BACK ENFORCEMENT LAWS

The New York State Sunday School Association, at its Annual Convention at Albany, will, on October 16, get squarely behind the question of Law Enforcement and the Volstead Act in a great Law Enforcement Rally, which will be held on the middle night of the Convention, with Hon. Wayne B. Wheeler, of Washington, D. C., General Counsel of the American Anti-Saloon League, and Dr. Daniel A. Poling, of New York, as the speakers. It will be a great occasion.

HATS TO WEAR TO THE GAME.

(By Eleanor Gunn.)

Large hats for formal wear, small ones for the more practical pursuits of life—this is the way the millinery situation is lined up for fall, a time when one hears so much of line-ups because of the nation-wide interest in football.

What to wear to the game is getting more and more of a serious business, since football is becoming yearly more fashionable.

Here are three hats which will stand the trip by motor or train, and not obstruct the view of those behind. The first has a high crown, draped and made of purple velvet with ostrich quills, the ends of which have been dipped in gilt—a prevailing fashion just now, when one sees tiny birds' heads gilded or silvered on many a hat. The hat trimmed with acorns, shown at the bottom of the group, is not exempt from this process, the acorns being brightly gilded.

While they must be listed among the extremes in fashion, it is worth mentioning that gloves, the gauntlets of which are decorated with gilded figures, are also being shown. At a time when all the world seems to be made akin by a touch of gold, these are timely importations.

London lavender is a name which recurs frequently in any discussion of smart colors. The center hat is in this very well liked shade and follows precedent by being stitched with gold and trimmed with a gold tipped pompon—the pompon being high on the list of desirable hat trimmings.

Schryver Co. To Celebrate

Performance Of Overland Spad In Recent Endurance Test By Dining At Golden Rule Inn—Local Dealer Receives Compliment From Factory.

George J. Schryver of the George J. Schryver Motor Car Company, local dealers for Overland and Willys-Knight cars, next week will be host at a dinner given at Golden Rule Inn to all of the employes of the firm. This dinner will be a sort of celebration given on account of the excellent showing made in the recent 100 hour endurance and economy run which was made by an Overland Spad and also to celebrate a record made by the local firm in the July-August Pacemakers selling contest which is conducted by all Overland and Willys-Knight dealers in the country. In this contest Mr. Schryver won eighteenth prize in competition with dealers in the D-4 classification which includes dealers in cities from 25,000 to 35,000 population. The prize won by Mr. Schryver was a Community Silver Chest.

Prizes were offered dealers making the best showings, the cities being divided in classes according to population. The first prize was a Overland touring car, second prize $300, third prize $200, fourth prize $150, fifth prize $100, sixth prize $75 the next four $50 and the next 10 a set of Community silver. All other prize winners were awarded an engraved gold watch charm. The result of the contest as conducted by the Overland people showed that the season of the year made very little difference as to cars sold.

Mr. Schryver has received a very complimentary letter from the Overland factory in regard to the recent 100 hour economy and endurance run which was held all over the nation. He being the only dealer who started out in the contest with an Overland Spad delivery truck. Other dealers entered Overland touring cars in the contest. The car which completed the 100 hour run with a most excellent record has been sold to Pratt Boice of Lake Katrine who will use it on his milk route.

After the run the Overland car was driven to Bob Martin's garage where it was given an examination as to its condition at the completion of the run and was pronounced 100%.

Precipitated Downfall of Labor Cabinet

PATRICK HASTINGS

Patrick Hastings, Attorney-General of Great Britain, caused the overthrow of the Ramsay MacDonald Labor Ministry by quashing the prosecution of Editor Campbell, of the Communist Workers' Weekly, who had been charged with inciting British soldiers to mutiny. Liberals in the House of Commons charged he acted under political pressure, and brought about a vote of censure for the Government. Hastings, explaining his withdrawal of the prosecution, declared the Communists wished to make a martyr of Campbell.

Relief For Cold in Your Head

If You're an American You Will See

"America"

YOU that have suffered for years—a thousand

YOU that have embittered the earth with your tears.

YOU that have wept by the wailing walls of Jerusalem; and the cruel nations of the earth have made you take these walls with you whever you journey, so that your bitter tears have watered the lands of the world, from east to west.

YOU that have found in the land of AMERICA at least a better shelter than in any other land, not perfect; no, not perfect, but at least better than before.

COME and see how this country that has given you shelter was made.

SEE how it, with its precious freedom, was gained through tears and sacrifice and sorrow.

COME for you will find there laughter, tremendous thrills, and you will see the great sacrifices of the first Americans, their sorrows and triumphs and you will see how they wailed by their walls of mourning at Valley Forge, Lexington and Bunker Hill, and how they, the first Americans, arose to the tremendous heights that you have risen to.

THE country they made, they made for all.

THIS country is now yours as well as theirs.

YOU must help keep it that the lights of freedom may not die out.

HELP to keep this land of America free from intolerance, from hatred; a refuge for all the oppressed forever and ever; your land, the land of all people.

Says astute Mr. Martin, critic of the World: "Finest play ever made." Says Miss Harriette Underhill of the Tribune: "The finest story ever screened." Says Mr. Colgate Baker: "Easily the screen's greatest achievement."

The Mercantile League Organized

The Mercantile Bowling League was organized for the season at the Y. M. C. A. on Friday evening, and the opening games will be rolled on October 20. Among the representatives present at the session were Mr. Wright of the Kingston Gas & Electric Company; Arthur Davis of the Kingston Trust Company; Fred Rice of the Jacobson shirt factory; Tom Rowland of Fuller's shirt factory; the Barth Company and the Schilling Furniture Company were not represented but sent word that they expected to be represented in the league. It is also expected that the lace mills will have a team in the field

It was decided to have three-men teams in the league, and each team will deposit $5 at the start of the season. It was also decided to divide the league into two divisions to be known as the American and National Leagues.

The teams in the American League will be the Kingston Gas & Electric Company, Silk Mills, Kingston Trust Company, Schilling Company, and the Barth Company.

The teams in the National League will be the Kingston Gas & Electric Company, the Silk Mills, the Lace Mills, Fuller's, and Jacobson's.

Physical Director Buley of the 'Y' and Arthur Rice, who has charge of the alleys this season, will draft the playing schedule.

There will be two cups presented the winning teams in each division. Possession of the larger cup will be determined by a series of nine sets to be bowled at the close of the league season.

It was decided that the divisions would alternate in bowling the American League bowling at 7 o'clock and the National League at 9 o'clock. In that way each League team would have the opportunity of bowling one night at an early hour and the other night at the later.

JUDGE FOWLER ADDRESSES MEN'S BIBLE CLASS

At the regular monthly meeting of the Men's Bible Class of the Fair Street Reformed Church, Friday evening, the class accepted the invitation from the Men's Community Club of Stone Ridge to attend its meeting Tuesday evening, October 21, at 8 o'clock. All members of the class with their wives and friends will meet at the church at 7.30 o'clock and go by autos. Dr. Seeley being unable to attend the meeting, was missed by every member present and everyone prayed for his speedy recovery. Judge Fowler in his talk, expressed some ideas and told of some of the things he had observed in his position as county judge that gave those present food for serious thought. Among the things he told of was that the majority of the indictments brought in court was of young men between the ages of 18 and 30 years of age, and that this condition seemed to be common all over the country. He spoke of how in past years the cause of crime was in a large number of cases due to liquor or anger, but nowadays it seems to be a deliberate crime. And no doubt some of the causes were on account of the late war or for the excitement or the thrill of the thing. Also the auto and movies were to blame for this condition, as a large number of pictures shown made the criminal the hero of the story. In past years the youth went west to shoot Indians for excitement, while now they very often turned to crime for the same excitement. And mention of some of the things to combat this condition was better home influence, Y. M. C. A. and Boy Scout movements. After the judge's talk, a number of songs were sung. The music was furnished by Charles Whittaker and Mr. Rich, after which refreshments were served.

Jewish Feast of Succoth Sunday

Religious Festival, Sometimes Called Feast of Tabernacles, Which Centers Around the Thought of Thanksgiving.

On Sunday, October 12th, at sundown, the happy festival of Succoth, or Tabernacles will be ushered in. Unlike American holidays, all Jewish holidays commence at sun-down, because in the Creation story, evening preceded morning of the first day. (Genesis 1:5). The Festival of Tabernacles, or Booths, recalls the period in Israel's history between their departure from Egypt and their entrance into the Promised Land. For forty years the Children of Israel, under the masterly leadership of Moses, dwelt in the Wilderness, being prepared, so to speak, for their future residence in the Holy Land.

Judaism is a religion which bases many ceremonies on the past. Mindful of this eventful era in Jewish history, every year, for a full week, commencing on the fifteenth day of the month of Tishri, Jewish people celebrate the Festival of Tabernacles The Bible verses relative to this are found in Leviticus (xxiii. 39-44) where it says v 42, "Ye shall dwell in booths seven days; All ye that are homeborn in Israel, shall dwell in booths; That your generations may know that I made the dren of Israel dwelt in frail booths, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt: I am the Lord, your God." During these forty years, the Children of Israel dwelt in frail booths, and Jewish people build temporary huts, where the climate is mild enough, so that they may eat their meals out of doors, and think of the divine guidance which protected Israel at all times. This booth must be of slight foundation, easily constructed and just as easily torn down, to indicate that the Jew must depend upon God and upon no human device for his salvation.

The second symbol of this week of holiday centers around the thought of Thanksgiving. The Feast of Tabernacles occurs at the beginning of the fall, when the farmer had completed his year's toil, and was expected to journey to Jerusalem and enjoy a week's holiday in the Temple of the Lord As the farmer journeyed to Jerusalem, he carried four symbols with him. V. 40, "And ye shall take ye on the first day the fruit of goodly trees, branches of palm trees, and boughs of thick trees and willows of the brook and ye shall rejoice before the Lord, your God, seven days" This ceremony is observed to this day, all over the world, and during the synagogue service, these four symbols, the date palm, the myrtle, the citron and weeping willow are found on the altar. To emphasize this spirit of thanksgiving for God's bounties, many congregations cover the synagogue pulpit with vegetables and fruits, thus forming a very pretty picture of offering gratitude to God for all his mercies. Orthodox synagogues observe the second day as well as the first by a special prayer service.

Monday, October 20th, the eighth, day of the festival, is called Shemini Azereth, the Feast of Conclusion Its special significance is understood through a fervent prayer for rain, that God during the winter months, now looming, will provide sufficient rain for the necessary crops This holiday may be explained through the following parable: A king once invited all his children to come from their several provinces, and for a full week they enjoyed great happiness in the royal palace All too soon did the hour for departure arrive The hearts of king and children were sad, till the king urged all his children to remain for one additional day, spending the hours in joy and merriment, after which they should all joyfully go to their respective homes.

Similarly, this Feast of Conclusion After tarrying in Jerusalem for a happy week, the farmers remained one concluding day with God, and then departed for their several homes, not to return again till the winter season was ended To this festival, orthodox Jews add another day, Simchas Torah, Rejoicing over the Law This is the happiest day in the entire Jewish year The reading of the Scrolls, containing five Books of Moses, is ended, and directly after, the Creation story in Genesis is once more read Happiness rules the hour, and even little children participate in the synagogue service

Famous Horses Burned in Car

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Dunkirk, N Y, Oct. 11—Nine famous jumping and show horses owned by Regan McKinney and E S. Burke of Wickliffe, Ohio, were burned last night in the car in which they were riding Eight of them were burned so seriously that they had to be shot. The horses are valued at many thousand dollars When the fire was discovered the train was six miles west of Dunkirk As there was no signal cord in the horse car, the men in charge of the animals could give no signal to those in charge of the train. The speed of the train fanned the flames and soon the car was a mass of fire. The horses were enroute from the stables of their owners to the New York horse show Among the names of the horses burned and shot were. Mine Sweeper, Brown Boy and Naughty Girl, champion jumpers, also Black Watch Blaze and Alice Foreman.

27 Men Missing After Ship Burns

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Oct. 11.—Twenty-seven men, two of whom are white, and the others Chinese coolies, were missing today following destruction of the Dollar Line Steamship President Polk by fire at her Brooklyn pier early this morning. The Chinese were members of the ship's crew.

Louis Johnson, a stevedore, was seen to jump into the East river and was not seen afterward. While the blaze was at its hottest an unidentified white man was seen to thrust his head from a port hole and call for help. He fell back out of sight as flame darted near him. Eight Chinese coolies of the 200 who made up the vessel's crew were rescued from the river after they jumped.

Car Used in 100-Hour Endurance and Economy Run Consumed 97¼ Gallons of Gasoline—Mileage Not Yet Known.

At the end of 100 hours' running the Chevrolet car which made the 100-hour endurance and economy run for Sutliff, Inc., local dealers, had consumed 97¼ gallons of gasoline, four quarts of oil and one quart of water. The car used in the test had been run nearly 12,000 miles before entering into the contest and at the conclusion of the run had made about 15,000 miles. The exact mileage will not be made known until 8 o'clock this evening when the official observer of the Automobile Club will break the seal on the speedometer and announce the mileage.

The speedometer was removed from the car this afternoon and taken into the possession of the official observer of the Automobile Club until 8 o'clock, when the seal will be broken at the garage of Sutliff, Inc. After the conclusion of the run the car was driven about the streets of the city where its ability after 100 hours of constant running was observed. At 6 o'clock it will be placed on the floor of the show-room exactly as it comes off the road and will be open to inspection by anyone who desired to make an inspection. Promptly at 8 o'clock all guesses in the guessing contest must be in as at that time the total mileage will be made known. A large number of guesses have been received, ranging all the way from 1,500 miles to 3,500 miles. The three persons who guess the nearest number of miles which the car has covered in the run will be given cash credits on the purchase of a new Chevrolet car.

The car Monday evening ran out of gasoline at Glenerie and lost 40 minutes while the observer of the Automobile Club was notified and secured a supply of gasoline.

When the car was checked in this noon at the end of the 100 hour run the seals of the tanks were broken and the total amount of gasoline, oil and water was checked by the observer. During the 100 hour run the car consumed 97¼ gallons of gasoline, 4 quarts of oil and 1 quart of water. The mileage of the trip as well as the number of miles per gallon of gasoline will be announced at 8 o'clock this evening.

In the tour about town this afternoon the car demonstrated its ability by towing another Chevrolet car in which three persons rode in the rear seat. No driver occupied the the front seat of the towed car and this fact caused considerable comment. Between the two cars was a large banner announcing the result of the 100 hour run. In the car which completed the 100 hour run were the two drivers, Doyle Sutliff and Emmett Aldrich, who made the entire run, alternating at the wheel every six hours.

Landis-Johnson War May End

Either May Retire During Winter Session—Old Time Fight Intensified by Dolan-O'Connell Scandal—High Praise From President Coolidge.

(Copyright 1924, by International News Service.)

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Oct. 11.—Baseball is in for a stormy winter session—perhaps the most turbulent history. And some epochal changes may take place in the conduct and personnel of the game before the teams start south in the spring again.

One of these changes may be the retirement of either Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, baseball's over lord, or Byron Bancroft Johnson, head of the American League, from the business. The warfare between the two men has reached such a stage, it became known today, where Judge Landis is beginning to consider whether baseball is big enough to contain both himself and Johnson.

It was bitter enough before, this conflict between the present czar of the game and the dethroned czar of the American League. It has been intensified a thousand fold by the events leading up to the world's series Johnson refused to attend, because he said the Giants were "a tainted team" by the Dolan-O'Connell scandal, and he publicly accused Judge Landis of being "unable or unwilling" to use the knife in a major operation on the game. Landis is going to have a showdown.

The series itself, which set a new high record for enthusiasm, popularity and keen close competition, constitutes the best answer to the American League head, Judge Landis said today just before leaving for New York.

"He tried his best to make this series look dirty," exclaimed the judge. "He wouldn't attend—yet the president of the United States attended every game played in Washington save the Sunday game. And while he sniped at the series from afar, here is what the president of the United States said about it.

"'The contests which I witnessed maintained throughout a high degree of skill and every evidence of a high class sportmanship that will bring to every observer an increased respect for and confidence in our national game. It would be difficult to conceive a finer example of true sport.

"That is what the president of the United States said about it. Answer Johnson? I don't have to—it has been done by the president of the United States.

"There were those, Johnson among them, who would have had me call off this series. What have they to say now? What has Johnson to say—his league won the greatest series in history in a contest which the president says 'will bring to every observer an increased respect for and confidence in our national game.'"

Judge Landis does not intend to drop his investigation into the Dolan-O'Connell matter. That, he said today will be pursued to the limit.

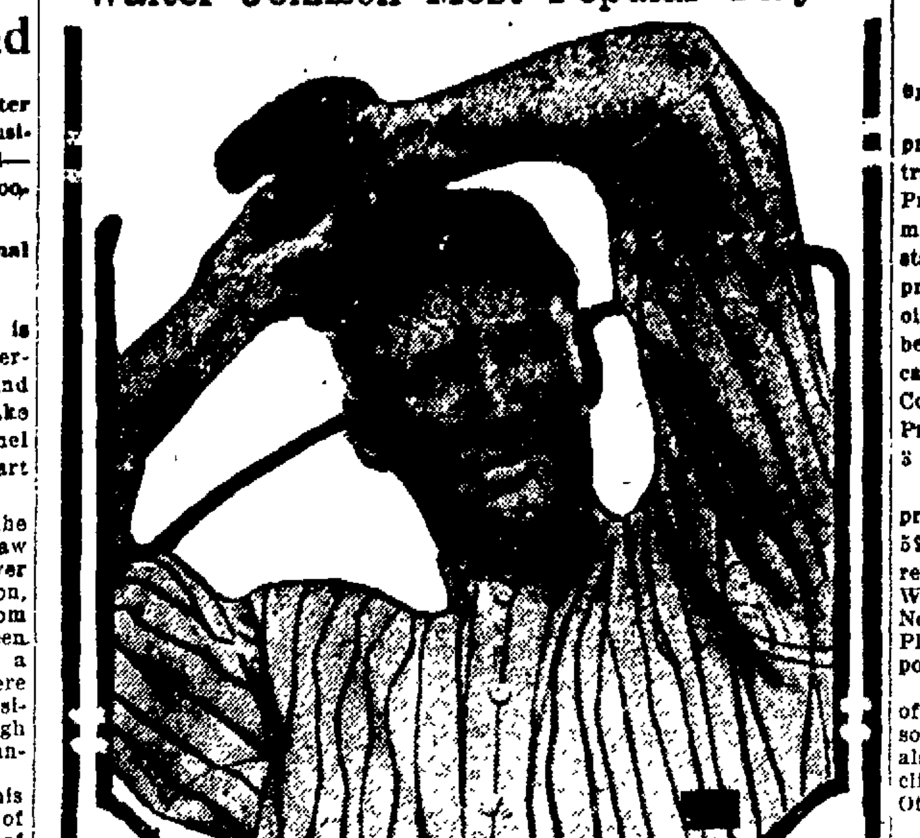
Walter Johnson Most Popular Player

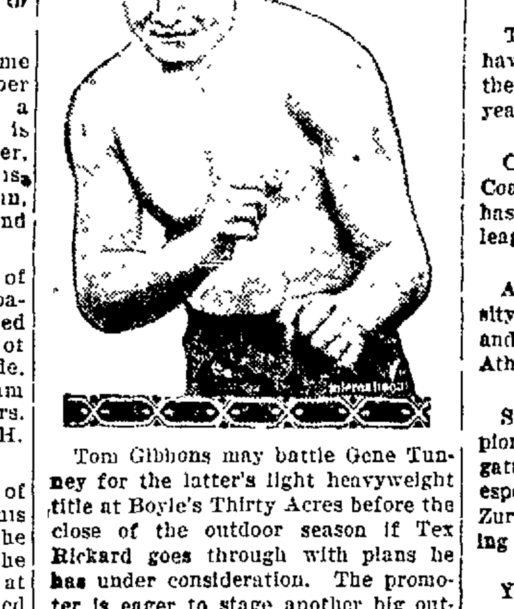


Walter Johnson, pitching ace with the Washington club for 17 years, has been selected as the winner of the American league trophy for 1924. Johnson's name goes into baseball's hall of fame along with George Sisler, manager of the St. Louis club, chosen the greatest player of the 1922 season, and Babe Ruth of the Yankees, who was awarded the honor in 1923. Johnson received a total of 55 points out of a possible total of 64 from the expert committee chosen to make the award.

Most Colorful Year in Boxing History

Boxing was in a turmoil last season. Eugene Criqui knocked out Johnny Kilbane and won the featherweight crown and a month later Johnny Dundee smothered Criqui and took the newly acquired title from him. Pancho Villa won the world's flyweight title from Jimmy Wilde, who had held it a long, long time. Floyd Johnson and Jess Willard were yelling for a crack at Dempsey. Willard put Johnson away and then Luis Angel Firpo eliminated Willard. Dempsey met Tommy Gibbons at Shelby, Mont., and Gibbons surprised Dempsey, the world and himself by staying 15 rounds. Later on Dempsey put Firpo away. Benny Leonard disposed of the only important challenger for the lightweight championship, Lew Tendler. Harry Greb tied Johnny Wilson into knots and relieved him of the middleweight title.

Gibbons to Box Tunney



Tom Gibbons may battle Gene Tunney for the latter's light heavyweight title at Boyle's Thirty Acres before the close of the outdoor season if Tex Rickard goes through with plans he has under consideration. The promoter is eager to stage another big outdoor fistic attraction in his Jersey City arena and has obtained the consent of Eddie Kane, Gibbons' manager, to box any suitable opponent.

Twirlers Work Harder With Something at Stake

Do hurlers work harder when there is something at stake? Sure they do. Look at Mordecai Brown's efforts when it meant something to the Chicago club, to his teammates and to himself. Not saying that the great hurler didn't work hard in every game he pitched, but there were times when he bent them over from start to finish, and that counted for something.

Mathewson, "Chief" Bender, Bill Donovan, Ed. Walsh possessed the qualities, both mentally and physically, to rise to the occasion. The brightest spots in their respective careers were when they had hard propositions confronting them.

John G. Clarkson was one of the greatest hurlers of the old school. During 1886 Clarkson was pitching for the Chicago club. In a series between Detroit and Chicago, when the latter city had a team in the old National, also had the greatest hitting aggregation of those times, and, perhaps, for all time, the men of Anson suffered three successive defeats. Clarkson, who had taken a good beating in the first game, asked Anson to let him pitch the last game and he would shut out Detroit. Next day Clarkson held the Detroit sluggers to one hit, fanned ten men and shut them out as he promised.

No team ever won a championship without a great catcher behind the bat. Washington has one of the greatest catchers in baseball in the person of Muddy Ruel. Indeed, some experts call him the outstanding catcher of the year, now that Schalk, Perkins, O'Neill and other, veterans have slipped materially.

Financial and Commercial

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Oct. 11.—Stocks were pressed for sale in the first hour of trading on the stock exchange today. Prices in all departments of the market continued the decline, which started yesterday afternoon. The pressure against the industrial and oil stocks was particularly heavy, bearish attacks centering on American Can, Baldwin, Texas Company, Colorado Fuel and Cast Iron Pipe. Prices were forced down from 1 to 3 points from the previous close.

A few of the rails were also under pressure, Lehigh Valley declining to 59⅝; St. Paul Preferred near its record low at 19; Pittsburgh and West Virginia, Southern Railway, Norfolk and Western and Nickel Plate yielding from a fraction to 2 points.

Marland Oil was heavy on reports of contemplated new borrowing and sold down to 31⅛; Texas Company also was singled out for attack, declining to 38¾ on heavy selling. Other oils held their ground.

Traders were more interested in lightening their loads wherever possible than extending them. Some stocks appeared to be in a sold out condition, and efforts to depress prices were not as successful as in other sections of the list. American Can at 128½ showed a loss of 5 points from Friday's high, and this was the outstanding movement in the day's declines.

Bonds were active and steady; cotton reactionary.

Selling pressure lifted in the second hour and moderate gains were made in many of the active stocks, some extensive enough to bring prices above the previous closing level.

Foreign government bonds led the activity in the listed bond market; Liberty bonds were active and steady; industrials firm; second grade rails slightly higher.

Klan Mobbed at Glens Falls

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Glens Falls, N. Y., Oct. 11.—A barrage of stones, clubs and bottles of ammonia thrown by a mob of nearly 2,000 persons greeted the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan last night when they attempted to organize in this city. The crowd, which was composed largely of boys and youths, stormed the building in which the meeting was held and smashed in the windows.

Following the meeting several of those who attended were assaulted as they left the place of meeting and but for the timely interference of the police might have been seriously injured.

The meeting was held in a garage just outside the city line and the building was surrounded by a large crowd for over an hour before the meeting began.

As the organizer, who said he was from Schenectady, began his talk, rocks and clubs were hurled through the windows and hecklers constantly interrupted the speaker. As the meeting continued a steady stream of stones and cinders came through the windows.

Following the meeting, the Klansmen remained in the building and asked the police to disperse the mob outside. City police, however, remained at the city line 200 feet away and said they were powerless to interfere. A call was sent for State Troopers but before they could arrive bottles of ammonia were thrown into the building and the fumes forced the Klansmen to vacate at once.

As they left the building the mob closed about them and several were attacked by the angry crowd.

Brandt, a splendid violinist, who formerly was connected with one of the large Symphony orchestras and has recently located in Kingston, will have a prominent place. The program will be found in the regular church notices.

Good Stories Golfers Tell of Royal Game

In 1921 on the course at Kirkfield, Ontario, P. McGregor and H. Dowie were all-square going to the home hole in the final, and when they reached the green McGregor needed to sink a long putt to win the match. He played the ball cleverly, but it rolled around the lip of the hole. It seemed to have stopped, when a large grasshopper landed squarely on the core and caused it to drop into the hole and decide the match in favor of McGregor.

Crows and sea-gulls frequently carry off golf balls, sometimes dropping the ball actually on the green, a stroke of fortune for the player, and it is quite a common incident a cow swallowing a golf ball.

A golfer at Newark in May, 1907, drove the ball into the river. The ball struck a trout two pounds in weight and killed it.

The Montreal yarn about the squirrel that stole and hid sixty-odd golf balls against a hard Canadian winter is more than matched by a report from E. R. Dickover, American consul at Kobe, Japan. In commenting on the increasing popularity of gold in Japan, Consul Dickover tells solemnly of the crows that infest the links of the Miko club and make away with the balls, even those sticking to the fairways.—Golfers' Magazine.

Mirage Produced by Passage of Light Rays

The mirage is an optical illusion in which images of distant objects are seen as if inverted or raised in the air, says the Detroit News. This phenomenon was first explained by a Frenchman who went with Napoleon on his first expedition in Egypt, where mirages are very common.

The phenomenon is due to the rays of light being changed in their direction when passing through colder or hotter strata of air. Layers of air in contact with the surface of deserts become greatly expanded and rarefied, while those immediately above remain denser, thus causing the light rays to be bent upward. However, over water the condition is just the reverse. The layers above are warmer than those next to the water. When an object appears to be lifted above its real position in the phenomenon it is called looming. In the case of looming the reflection is from the sky while in ordinary mirage it is from the earth. Mirages are common in Egypt, Persia, Turkestan, California, Nevada and Alaska.

Excursion to Newburgh Sunday

Anticipating an attendance of 40,000 persons on Sunday at the exercises marking the twenty-fifth anniversary of their organization, the Newburgh Council, Knights of Columbus have been specially cheered by the cooperation which has been offered by other organizations of the city. With the great influx of visitors, the Knights would have been at a loss without aid in this direction and recognizing this many other societies of Newburgh have tendered the use of the buildings for such purposes as the Knights may employ them.

Among those which have been offered in this manner are the Masonic Temple, the Y. M. C. A. the Newburgh Wheelmen, the armory, the American Legion home, the houses of Victory, Chapman and Brewster, St. Patrick's Lyceum and others. Washington's Headquarters will be open from 11 o'clock until 2 o'clock.

Parade at 2 o'clock.

The parade will start at 2 o'clock, the formation being on the streets north of Broadway. Cardinal Hayes will be the guest of the Rev. Henry O'Carroll of St. Patrick's church Newburgh and will have as special escort, the New York Color Guard in uniform. The parade will move at 2 o'clock and proceed west in Broadway to West street and countermarch to Liberty street and thence to the grounds of the Academy of Mt. St. Mary-on-Hudson, where Cardinal Hayes will officiate at the Benediction of the Blessed sacrament. It is expected that 10,000 men will parade.

Kingston Council, Knights of Columbus will be in attendance at the celebration at Newburgh on Sunday, going from here on the Homer Ramsdell. The boat will leave the Central Hudson dock on Sunday morning, at 9:45, returning from Newburgh at 7 o'clock in the evening. Tickets for the excursion can be secured at the boat. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

If you do not register you will lose your vote for president.

Auxiliary Holds Busy Meeting

The October meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Auxiliary was held on Friday afternoon in the parlors of the Y. M. C. A. building. The devotional exercises were in charge of Miss Alice Kiersted. Mrs. Chester W Hall, who had charge of the afternoon's program, first introduced the speaker for the day, the Rev. H. J. Gerhardt, pastor of the Wurts Street Baptist Church. His subject was "God Calls Us Servants," and this call to service was the theme of his talk. Routine business followed and one new member, Mrs. A. W. Buley, was received in the auxiliary. The purchasing committee was empowered to make certain purchases for the boys' department. It was announced that the auxiliary had paid $200 on its pledge of $800.

Since its last meeting, the auxiliary had lost through death, one of its most loyal, devoted and efficient members for many years and one who had long been an officer. There were many well-earned tributes to the memory of Mrs. Weeks given by different members of the auxiliary and it was voted that for the next five years, an Easter Lily be given at Easter to the First Reformed Dutch Church for Easter decoration, in memory of Mrs. Weeks.

The afternoon was brought to a close with two delightful piano numbers, "In Autumn," by Mac Dowell, and "Staccato," by Bohm, which were played by Mrs. William S. Eltinge.

Walden Team Here Tomorrow

Sunday afternoon at the Fair Grounds the Walden team will be the attraction in a double-header, opposing the Colonials. The Orange county nine is expected to come heavily loaded for what they consider prize games. Gus Heehs, who turned in a win at the local diamond some weeks ago will receive the pitching duties in one of the games. "Rosy" Ryan of the New York Nationals or Enzman of the Newark International League will probably be on the mound in the other contest.

Culloton and Russel will do the pitching for the Schirickmen. The first game will be called at 2:15 o'clock.

Tagging Bases In Final Game

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Oct. 11.—It was Mrs. O'Leary's cow that started the Chicago fire back in the seventies. But famous as that animal is, she has a rival now in the innocent little pebble that bounded Washington into its first world's championship.

There have been wild ball games before but the 1924 finale will go down in history as the wooliest. No college football crowd ever put on a more spontaneous demonstration than did the fans of Washington yesterday.

A colored gentleman, first to reach Ruel as he crossed the plate, embraced the player fondly. Muddy side stepped that one with due haste but bore up bravely under the subsequent felicitations of a pair of pretty little flappers.

Johnson twice fanned Kelly in a pinch by breaking the ball across the handle of his bat.

For reasons unknown, the Senators' infield played back in the sixth after Young walked and Kelly's single sent him to third. The Senators were one run to the good at the time, no one was out and from the infield position, even a double play on Kelly and Meusel wouldn't have prevented Young scoring the tying run.

Barnes's curve ball was beautiful to behold—for the first seven innings. The Senators looked like the worst ball club in the world in the sixth. After that, they turned around and looked like the best.

The Giants felt so certain of their ultimate victory in the seventh that two players in the bull pen lay flat on their stomachs, turned their heads toward the bleachers and didn't see a single play for ten minutes.

Wilson got a great hand on his high and fancy diving in the third. First he disappeared from view in a desperate dive into the bleachers after Harris's homer. Then, after taking time out to adjust his bearings he came rushing in on the following play and captured Rice's low liner while sliding on his stomach.

McNeely didn't begin hitting until near the end of the series. But he made up for lost time.

The jockeying of the rival managers was worth the price of admission. Some thought that Harris let his heart rule his head when he called on Walter Johnson. Don't know but what his heart was pretty smart, at that.

McGraw Proves A Good Loser

Giants' Manager Gives Credit To Senators' Manager and Predicts Brilliant Future for Harris—Glad Johnson Had The Honor of Winning.

(By Davis J. Walsh)

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Oct. 11.—Something after the manner of Napoleon's historic retreat from Moscow, the chastened New York Giants arrived in town this morning on an overnight train from Washington, secretly convinced that the better team lost, but publicly giving due credit to the Senators for their victory in the world series.

Strange to say, they were almost debonair in defeat. The so-called Little Napoleon, John J. McGraw, hardly presented the aspect of the slumped over figure that a great artist painted of that earlier retreat. He wasn't jubilant, neither was he forlorn.

Somehow the Giants had arrived at the conclusion that fate, as much as the Senators, had beaten them and at the same time the individual players were quick to shoulder what blame was theirs.

"I let Harris's hit in the eighth play me," said young Fred Lindstrom. "I grooved one for Harris in the third," declared Barnes. "I should have been able to get that mask out from under my foot," quoth Gowdy. And so it went. There was little or no blame to be taken and the players took it.

Although careful to avoid committing themselves to that effect, the Giants to a man still believed they were the best ball club.

A tip off on their attitude was the fact that few of them carried hand baggage, this being not a case of neglect but of supreme self confidence. When the club departed for Washington to play the sixth game, George Kelly didn't even carry a tooth brush. He expected to be on his way to New York the night of the sixth game with the series ended and the Giants the winner.

Perhaps the man who should have taken defeat the hardest seemed to be the most buoyant. A desperate opponent, John McGraw also proved himself a cheerful loser.

He hastened to make graceful admission of the fact that the Senators richly deserved their victory, discounted the breaks that decided the final game and predicted a brilliant career for Stanley Harris, the twenty-seven year old manager.

"I don't feel badly about it," said McGraw. "Defeat is just something that must be taken in its stride. It's part of life. You can't win all the time and now that it is all over, it doesn't mean so much to me as you might imagine. I have had plenty of winners in my time.

"The breaks helped to stop us but breaks are part of every ball game and we would have had to get them to win.

"I think Harris deserves a lot of credit for the way he handled his team. He is still young and should have lots of winners before he is through with baseball. I hope he has as many as I have had.

"I was glad that it was Johnson who beat us as long as some one had to. I would rather have him do it than anyone I know."

Nine Entries Face Barrier In Third Of International Races—Zev and Wise Counsellor Probably To Be Scratched.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Lafonia, Ky. Oct. 11.—Nine overnight entries were to face the barrier at the race track here this afternoon in the third of the International races featuring the French champion, Epinard, which was beaten in his two previous American starts.

The distance today was a mile and a quarter, the longest the French horse has been called on to run.

It was predicted that two horses, Zev and Wise Counsellor, both of which were beaten in the last International race, probably will be scratched, leaving seven horses to face the starter.

The probable starters were: Epinard, Chilhowee, Sarazen, Little Chief, Altawood, My Play, Mad Play and Princess Doren.

Epinard was the overnight favorite at 5 to 2 with Sarazen ranking next at 3 to 1. Little Chief was quoted at 40 to 1. Epinard, Little Chief and My Play each were to carry top weight, 126 pounds.
